

Hamp Nursery & Infants' School

Special Educational Needs Policy 2016-17

Mission Statement

Hamp Nursery and Infants School strives to provide every child with an enjoyable, achievable and positive learning experience. Children are encouraged, supported and stretched to reach their full potential.

Rationale

Hamp Nursery & Infants' is a school that is inclusive in its policies practices and outlooks. We aim to minimise any barrier to learning that children with Special Educational Needs may have.

There is a whole school approach to children with Special Educational Needs (SEND). The children are included and supported for both their educational and emotional needs. There are high expectations for all children. The children are supported with regard for the Code of Practice, focusing on early identification and working in partnership with the child, parents and outside agencies.

Aims and Objectives

We intend to provide:

- A whole school approach to children with Special Needs in which the teaching and learning achievements, attitudes and well being of every child matters
- A school where all teachers are teachers of children with SEN who provide teaching which is inclusive
- Access to a broad, balanced and relevant education that takes into account the varied life experiences of each child
- Early identification and assessment of children with SEND
- Effective learning and emotional/behavioural support is given where and when pupils need it
- Extra support is given in such a way as to minimise the disruption to the child and to the class
- Involvement of parents in decisions made about their child
- The opportunity for pupils to give their views which will then be taken into account

The role of the Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator (SENCO)

The named SENCO is Belinda White. The Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator is responsible for co-ordinating provision. She is consulted by the Senior Management Team about relevant issues and liaises with SEN Governor Mrs M Balmforth.

The SENCO, with the support of the Head Teacher and colleagues, seeks to develop effective ways of overcoming barriers to learning and sustaining effective teaching through the analysis and assessment of children's needs, by monitoring the quality of teaching and standards of pupils' achievements and by setting targets for improvement.

The key responsibilities may include:

Overseeing the day-to-day operation of the school's SEND Policy

- Coordinating provision for children with special educational needs
- Liaising with and advising fellow teachers, teaching assistants and nursery practitioners
- Managing the work of those learning support assistants who are High Needs funded
- Contributing to the in-service training of staff
- Liaising with external agencies including the learning and behaviour support services, educational psychology services, health and social services and voluntary bodies

CODE OF PRACTICE

What is the Code of Practice?

It is a model of action and intervention in schools and early year's settings to help children who have special educational needs. Hamp Nursery & Infants' follows this model.

It is designed to make sure pupil's needs are identified as soon as possible and action is taken to ensure they make progress that is good for them.

In Somerset the Code is based on the concept that all children have a basic school entitlement. The Code recognises that there is a continuum of SEN. It focuses on a graduated approach to incorporate Special Educational Needs Support (SEN Support), High Needs funding and children who have an Educational Health Care Plan (EHCP).

The Graduated Approach in the Primary Phase

School Entitlement- Provision for all

All children have a basic entitlement relating to a broad and balanced curriculum and strategies provided to all pupils through Quality First Teaching.

Features of Provision

- General whole school approach/method
- Broad and balanced curriculum
- Safe and secure learning environment
- Mathematics / Literacy curriculum
- Working Behaviour Policy
- Subject differentiated curriculum
- Classroom organisation to support learning and behaviour
- Access to SENCO in consultation

Early Years SEN Support:

Features of Provision

This is when a class teacher or nursery practitioner identifies that a pupil has SEND – the class teacher or practitioner, with the advice of the SENCO, devises interventions additional to or different from those provided as part of the school's usual differentiated curriculum on offer under provision for all and within the Quality First teaching.

Additionally the SENCO may

- Collect any relevant information on the child
- Further assess the child
- Plan future intervention in discussion with colleagues
- Put in place resources to support the child
- Monitor and review action taken
- Consult outside agencies at termly school consultation meetings (having first sought parental permission) if necessary

At this stage, a child will have an Individual Education Plan (IEP) and/or a Pupil Passport highlighting their needs. The class teacher or nursery practitioner remains responsible for working with the child on a daily basis and for planning and delivering the child's IEP. This may also involve the SENCO or Teaching Assistants (TAs) or nursery practitioners.

Pupil Passports

When children are initially identified as needing SEN support, class teachers, teaching assistants and pupils will develop an individual Pupil Passport. The SENCO may also contribute to a child's passport.

The Pupil Passport outlines a child's likes and views and highlights their particular strengths, as well as identifying the main type of SEN need/s that they have and will record how these needs are being met within the class.

Class teachers and teaching assistants will discuss and share a child's Pupil Passport with parents during termly parent meetings. The Pupil passports are regularly reviewed and updated on a termly basis and are passed on to the child's next class teacher. They will continue to be updated and reviewed alongside an IEP while the child continues to receive SEN support.

Currently, Pupil Passports have been developed in Reception and Year 1 classes and will continue to roll out in to Year 2 classes in 2017-18.

Individual Education Plans - IEPs

IEPs are one of our main vehicles for SEN provision and are also a key means for evaluating the effectiveness of that provision. They aim to:

- Detail provision and targets that are additional and different from those generally available to all pupils
- Promote effective planning
- Help pupils monitor own progress

- Result in the achievement of specified learning goals for children with SEN
- Keep parents involved and informed of their child's progress and needs.

Targets

The targets should be SMART

Specific Measurable
Achievable
Relevant
Time bounded

They should focus on these specific areas of need, as necessary for each child:

- Communication and Interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health
- Sensory and/or Physical

The Process

If a child is thought to need an IEP:

- Targets are set
- These targets are then reviewed termly, or half-termly, with all concerned with the children

Children in the Nursery and reception classes and those working at a pre-level of the National Curriculum will be targeted using the Early Years Foundation Stage Curriculum. If a child is still working below Level 1 at the end of Y1 they will be targeted using the "P" scales assessments or equivalent.

Review IEPs:

During the review the following areas are discussed:

- Targets achieved
- New Targets to be worked on
- Ideas for supporting children, e.g. behaviour strategies, ideas for differentiated work, how the targets can be met
- Use of TA and practitioners and small groups
- Effective planning.

Progress

Progress is demonstrated when:

- Some or all targets are achieved
- The child's previous rate of progress is maintained or improved
- There is evidence of improved behaviour and/or emotional development
- A higher level of independence is achieved.

Early Years High Needs:

These children require a higher level of support in order to achieve targets on their Individual Education Plans.

These children will usually receive a high level of involvement from outside agencies, such as advisory support teachers and therapists. Triggers for intervention are that the child is making little or no progress (in specific areas) despite strategies that are additional to and different from those provided as part of a highly differentiated curriculum and SEN support.

Features of Provision

- The school and parents are often provided with advice or support from outside agencies
- Often additional support or resources are put into place.

LA Action

LAs may be asked to complete a Statutory Assessment where evidence demonstrates significant causes of concern requiring access to resources/provision, which are not generally made available in the area.

Features of Provision

The Local Authority will begin a statutory assessment when the child has not responded to relevant and purposeful measures at Level 2 funding or above of Early Years or High Needs funding.

An Educational Health Care Plan is issued by the LA to determine:

- Placement at a school with specific SEN provision/resources other than the local designated school, or
- If a child is on Somerset's co-ordination list and has a high level of multi-agency involvement
- LA action to ensure close monitoring and provision. The EHCP will quantify provision and monitoring arrangements

The Role of the Teaching Assistant/ Nursery Practitioner

The TA or Nursery Practitioner should work in partnership with the teacher having access to planning and being clear on their role and the learning outcomes for the child or group of children they are supporting.

Assessment, Recording and Reporting

There are various methods of assessment, recording and reporting:

- High frequency word test
- Reading Tests in Year 1 & Year 2 – (Salford/Burt)
- Levelled Writing Assessments x 1 per term
- Teacher Assessment – continuous assessment of Key Stage 1
- Optional SATS – Standard assessment tasks undertaken by children in Year 2
- Early Years Foundation Stage Profile – continuous assessment of children throughout their reception year and beyond
- In-house reading and phonic records, which show progression of reading and phonic levels
- External Agency assessment
- Informal concerns expressed by Class Teacher, Nursery Practitioner, Teaching Assistant, parents

PARTNERSHIP

Parental Participation

- Nursery and school staff are available to talk to parents informally
- Parents of pupils with IEPs will be kept informed of their child's progress
- Each term parents will be given the opportunity to come in and discuss their child's progress and the new targets set
- Targets may be set for the child to work on at home
- If a child is to be discussed at the school consultation meetings, parental permission will be sought. The parents will then be consulted about any plans, which are suggested

- Parents are offered the opportunity to access support from the Parent Partnership service if necessary

Pupil participation

- School should be experienced by all pupils as warm and welcoming and open
- Children should have access to all the activities that make up school life

Children should be enabled and encouraged to participate in all decision-making processes that occur in education including:

- Setting learning targets
- Contributing to the assessment of their needs
- Contributing to the Pupil Passport, School Entry Plan Review and Annual Review

All children need to be a part of these processes, to know they are listened to and that their views are valued.

- Monitor the quality of pupil's learning including the effectiveness of class support and respective interventions
- An annual Report to governors

Complaints

As with all complaints, it is hoped that these can be dealt with in school by the class teacher, practitioner or SENCO. If the parent is not satisfied and wishes to make a formal complaint then there is an agreed procedure which will be followed.

Admission

For children coming into school with Special Education Needs a School Entry Plan is drawn up. If necessary part-time attendance may be negotiated with the parents to suit the child's needs.

Provision in Literacy and Mathematics

We are following national guidelines of inclusion for all children. Additional Literacy and Numeracy educational needs will largely be met within the structure of whole class Literacy and mathematics.

In the whole class work and small group work, teachers and teaching assistants will involve and support all pupils by differentiated questioning, by demonstrating skills in action and by reinforcing key points. Some children may receive pre-tutoring or may work in a small group on mental maths skills or phonics at their level. In group time, additional needs will be addressed through tailored work in ability groups and the use of support staff, where they are available to consolidate key points.

In exceptional circumstances there may be times when teaching and learning strategies cannot be adapted to meet individual needs. In this case, provision may be made separately keeping as close as possible to the class objectives.

E-Safety

E-safety forms part of this and all other policies and e-safety rules/practices and procedures will/are followed by all staff and pupils at all times.

This policy was adopted on 15.11.16
