

What are your treasures?

During this time, some people have been thinking of which things in life are the most important to them.

Here is a treasure chest.

You could talk through with your family which things in your life are most important to you. They may not just be objects.

These things (or people or concepts) could be your treasure to put into the treasure chest.

Draw pictures to show your treasure in the chest.

